Americans, I am aware, believe that they will produce Literature and Art, as they produce coal and steel and oil, by the judicious application of intelligence and capital; but here they do themselves injustice. The qualities that are making them masters of the world, unfit them for slighter and less serious pursuits. The future is for them the kingdom of elevators, of telephones, of motor-cars, of flying machines. Let them not idly hark back, misled by the effete traditions, to the old European dream of the kingdom of heaven ...let them say, "for Europe, Letters and Art", let America rule the world by syndicates and trusts!" For such is her true destiny, and that she conceives it to be such, is evidenced by the determination with which she has suppressed all irrelevant activities. The entire industrial world, this technological wonder-world, has been built because we have been watching helplessly, hypnotized by its brilliance, unable to turn our eyes away from the life of luxury it promises, or to make the small change in our daily habits which might mitigate its destructiveness. This knowledge without character--extraordinary technical expertise-- without the will or wisdom to use it well. In Gandhi's perspective, it is up to individuals like you and me to reverse this situation. Environmental abuse and exploitation are not necessary evils"—no evil is necessary. In fact, Gandhi went so far as to say that evil in itself is not even real; it exists only as long as we support it.
